Colors

Color

Color is a key consideration for composition in photography. There are so many color harmonies that you have endless possibilities!

You can use complementary colors to create contrast and make your subject stand out. And you can bring together apparently unrelated elements that are united via a color scheme.

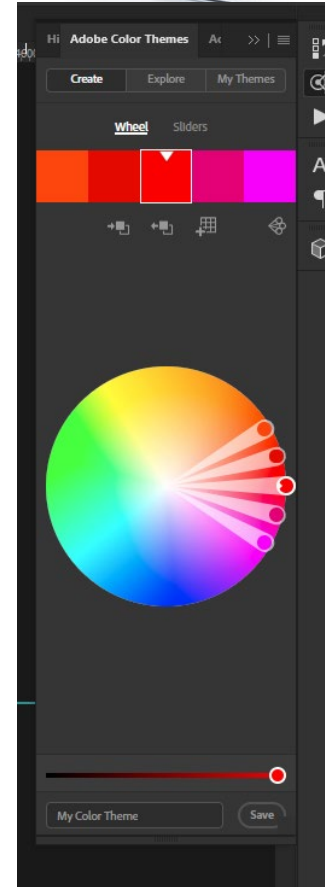

A good way to learn and understand color palettes is Adobe Color. You can use this tool even if you don't have an Adobe subscription.

Simply select a color wheel with different color harmony rules, such as monochromatic, complementary, etc. You can also upload a photograph to extract the color scheme or gradient. And to stay updated, you can browse trends based on Adobe Stock and Behance.

Colours and Emotions

- Red
 - Love and passion
 - Danger, aggression
- Blue
 - Confidence
 - Harmony, loyalty, trust
- Yellow
 - Good and evil
 - Optimism
 - Jealousy, betrayal

Paletton - The Color Scheme Designer
