Photographer Sues Capcom for $12M for Using Her Photos in Video Games

“...80 or more Juracek images appear in RESIDENT EVIL ... it is hard to imagine that precise duplication would be possible by independent creation,” the lawsuit states.

...a hacker group shared Capcom’s data online with several files that matched image file names found on the photographer’s Book-CD.

Juracek is asking the court to award her actual damages, profits, exemplary damages, and (possibly) statutory damages, which could total $12 million or more (up to $150,000 for each of the 80 infringements plus attorney fees).

A couple weeks ago, thousands of Elegant Terns were lost when 2 drones crashed by Tern Island. It is believed that the nesting terns left the eggs they were incubating in a response to the threat that the drones posed. This has never happened at such a large scale at the reserve.
